

Report of Real Property Owned by the Authority

The Nelson A. Rockefeller Empire State Plaza Performing Arts Center Corporation does not own any real property.

No property transaction have taken place during the 2022-23 fiscal year.

Since the Authority's activities do not in any way interest with real property acquisitions or transactions, there has not been any action made in creating policies that would involve that practice.